

2015 CABERNET SAUVIGNON, COLUMBIA VALLEY

INCONCEIVABLE WINES are always “of a place.”

They have distinctive aromas and flavors indigenous and inherent to where they are grown. Our labels identify place-clues for exploring the wine within the bottle.

BY MIDDLETON FAMILY WINES

Dark garnet in color, this 2015 Cabernet Sauvignon delivers a mix of sun-baked, earth-laced red currant, dark cherry and fig aromas and flavors. These are nuanced by baker’s chocolate, roasted coffee bean, brown spice and grilled asparagus. An ultra-soft, creamy entry leads to a full-throttled mid-palate, and a mineral-accented finish. This is an easy-drinker that should please all palates.

2015 was an extremely warm vintage, achieving very rich and ripe character in the Cabernet Sauvignon - adding complementary Bordeaux varietals to the blend yields balance and complexity.

52% of the blend was barrel aged for 23 months in second and third fill barrels; 48% of the blend was aged for 11 months on new French oak tank staves (to add more new oak character) before being barreled down for the final 12 months in second and third fill barrels.
